

ASEND WEBSITE UI DESIGN

This document provides specifications of ASEND website UI design.

Colors Used: White, black and royal blue.

PAGES (Desktop)

The website will have 4 pages namely: home (the landing page), about, services, and concours.

- A. Home Page: The home page is the landing page i.e. the page which first loads or opens up when the link is clicked (e.g. <https://asendprep.com>). This page will contain a summary of everything about ASEND: who we are, what we offer, what we have been doing, and how you can contact us. As shown in the figure below. The various sections include: navigation menu, a simple hero section with a background image of the whole team, a simple summary about us and what we do, with a picture of us in prep class or orientation, our partners (e.g. chitechma, mountain university etc.), summary of services we offer (orientation, one on one mentorship, prep class, pre-med & pre-engr exams, and a see more buttons which will take us to the services page), statistics page(number of students who have succeeded through us, number of team members etc.), our team (this section gives a brief insight on our staffs, their qualification or school level, links to their social media and what they teach, a simple call to action to join the team which takes users to Google form to be filled, testimonial section(students testimony of how ASEND helped them make it to their dream school), our recent activities (which includes world engineering day, prep class, premed/pre-engr exams and so on), students answers to frequent questions we get from students during orientation), a contact form and finally a footer.

Our Mission

It is a long established fact that a reader will be distracted by the readable content of a page when looking at its layout. The point of using Lorem Ipsum is that it has a more-or-less normal distribution of letters, as opposed to using 'Content here, as opposed to the other text provided above the Lorem Ipsum generator and Ipsum calibrator so we can mitigate the lounge.
